

The core component in the DocuSphere® family of integrated business process improvement products, Content Manager V4 is a powerful, complete and integrated document management and imaging tool. User-friendly and easily installable, this comprehensive solution offers the functionality you need to realize full benefits faster, maximizing your return on investment. Content Manager makes all your important business documents immediately available on the desktop.

A premier resource for document capture, distribution and archiving, Content Manager enables you to manage business documents across internal data networks and the web. Better yet, all essential information is retrievable through immediate desktop access. In ERP environments, this product provides a simple added level of “drill-down” within the ERP application to the document image.

Set-up and ongoing administration. Highlighted by graphical configuration screens, Content Manager effectively simplifies the creation of indices and customized interfaces for business users. User interface is completely web-based. Moreover, you'll enjoy flexible and comprehensive document security, with authentication verified through standard utilities such as LDAP, Active Directory or Windows.

In general, Content Manager avoids the need for investment in scarce and expensive IT resources, easily scaling from initial usage levels in the single digits to thousands. And because it features the distinct Windows look and feel, users accept it more freely, which helps you realize the benefits all the more quickly.

Content Manager makes all your important business documents immediately available on the desktop.
